The Presidents Cup, is one of the most prestigious golf tournaments on the planet. Returning to Melbourne in 2011, it promises to be truly magnificent. The Presidents Cup is, in my opinion, fantastic as all the money collected goes to supportive charities. The Presidents Cup is also a very entertaining tournament to watch because lots of thrilling shots are hit. Finally, the Presidents Cup attracts lots of people from around the world to watch all these spectacular American and International players play, and battle it out for the Presidents Cup. This gives the Presidents cup a electrifying atmosphere.

Firstly, the Presidents Cup supports a lot brilliant charities. The players and captains of both teams nominate these charities. I find this amazing, because all the players share their time, expertise and the fruits of their profession without even worrying about the prize money. This makes the Presidents Cup an extremely supportive fundraiser. In fact, the first six Presidents Cups raised over thirteen million US dollars. As the Executive Director of the Presidents Cup, Matthew Kamienski said “No matter which team emerges triumphant in 2011, the real winners will be the countless individuals and communities across the globe that benefit from this support” All this money is distributed to lots of caring charities and charitable causes around the world, such as providing medical care for neglected animals in South Carolina, The Haiti earthquake appeal and The Victorian Bushfire Appeal. The selfless and charitable nature of the event is one reason why the Presidents Cup is an amazing occasion.

Secondly, the Presidents Cup to me is so prestige because of the spectacular atmosphere and intensity that it has. Every shot counts and every shot can make a difference to the eventual winner. What really captures my imagination is how focused these players can be and how they pull off all the mind-blowing shots under all that pressure. I will certainly enjoy the amazing atmosphere that the Presidents Cup has. I love the form of Match Play because it is a head to head competition and there is lots more rivalry between the players. It also makes golf a little bit more exciting and it gives golf a little bit more intensity. Matches in Match Play can get lots of people sitting on the edge of their seat even if they don't enjoy golf that much.

Finally, I would love to be involved with the event because I could meet a lot of fantastic people. Golf is easily my favourite sport. I love playing golf because every time when I hit a nice shot I get a great feeling. I also love watching all these spectacular players on TV, but watching the play at Royal Melbourne is undoubtedly magnificent because it is so close by. I find golf an engaging sport because there are so many aspects to it, like concentration, swinging your body perfectly, being mentally smart and so on. Players at the Presidents Cup are a real inspiration to me, because I would love to become a professional golfer when I grow up. Being given the chance to go to the Presidents Cup is a brilliant opportunity for me because I can get more experience from the event.

In conclusion, I cannot wait until the Presidents Cup in November. It really inspires me because of the fact that all the money received goes to charities but also because lots of spectacular golfers come over to play golf and they give the Presidents Cup that amazing one and only feeling.
